Hillsdale College basketball programs participating in the GLIAC Pink Wave Feb. 12-14

Hillsdale, Mich. — The Hillsdale College men's and women's basketball teams are joining a nationwide effort the weekend of Feb. 12-14 to help fight cancer through the Women's Basketball Coaches Association Pink Wave promotion.

In recognition of the ongoing fight against cancer, the Charger women's basketball team will wear pink jerseys at its home games vs. Wayne State on Thursday, Feb. 12 and vs. Northwood on Saturday, Feb. 14. Game times are 6 p.m. Thursday and 1 p.m. Saturday. The men's and women's basketball teams will wear pink shoelaces at all four games in recognition of cancer awareness.

The pink jerseys worn by the women's team will be available for auction during both home dates. A silent auction table will be set up where fans can write in bids on jerseys of their favorite players. Autographed pink-themed posters of both Charger basketball teams will be raffled off at the home dates. Proceeds from each of these endeavors will go towards cancer research.

Proceeds from all events during Hillsdale's Pink Wave weekend will go towards cancer research. In addition to the jersey auction, 25 percent of all ticket sales will be donated, and Pink Wave t-shirts will be sold at the games for $10 each. The Hillsdale College Student-Athlete Advisory Council will also accept donations for the cause while it bags groceries at the Kroger Supermarket in Hillsdale from noon to 2 p.m. Friday, Feb. 13.

Any area middle school or high school teams that would like to attend the games as a group will not be charged admission prices, in lieu of a donation to the cause. A special ceremony is scheduled between the women's and men's game on Feb. 14, to recognize all cancer survivors in attendance at the games.
